

Music Music It was late and I knew it was on time From a fantasy of flesh and blood Music We will take a heart to make you strong Somewhere in these eyes on your side Music You are my current spirit in rhyme For the love of love To play For the love of love To play For the love of love Tenors in our four broken home Who will try your eyes when it falls apart What makes this thread She will go wrong We have lost much in the fight Somewhere in these eyes For the love of love To play For the love of love To play For the love of love To play For the love of love To play For the love of love To play To play To play For the love of love To play For the love of love To play For the love of love
